Fire and Water Proof
Composition Roofs,
Office—7 Liberty Square, Boston.
...THIS Company would respectfully solicit the attention of Builders, Architects, Master Carpenters, and the Public generally, to the unrivalled superiority of their long well known Composition Roofs, which have given universal satisfaction wherever they have been introduced. Their Roofs are made entirely of Tarred Felt, and are rendered perfectly durable by the application of their Composition, which forms a complete cement, rendering the whole as impervious to water as sheet lead, and much more durable, as it is not affected by the changes of the weather, like metal, and requires no repairs.
...Roofs are also of much greater durability, and are entirely proof against both Fire and Water.
...Composition is not to be surpassed for coating Roofs of Tin, Iron, Canvas, Felt, Shingle, Boards, Brick, Stone, &c., rendering them perfectly water proof, and preventing the rust which destroys Tin and Iron Roofs.
...Roofs are also much less in price than any other kind of Roof. The materials for laying them can be sent to any part of the country, and put down by unskilled workmen, with the directions which will be furnished with each order.
...Company refer to the following gentlemen, for whom they have laid Roofs, and to whom they will be happy to give any information relative to the same:

STEAMBOATING IN NEW YORK.—The Whig of New York city have split into two pieces. The Whig General Committee of the city has met and issued a proclamation, declaring themselves a separate Whig organization. They offer a long list of reasons therefor; the principal of which is that they are opposed to all fusion with other parties. The New York Times denounces the whole movement, which it says is probably a new device by which the Silver Grays, or Yankee, pro-slavery Whigs hope to maintain at least the shadow of an organization long enough to enable them to make advantageous terms with the proslavery section of the Know-Nothings. Its principal importance grows out of the apprehension it betrays, that a thorough and effective fusion of the opponents of slavery aggression is likely to take place throughout the State. Symptoms of such a tendency have already been manifested in various sections.

These New York Straight-outs are somewhat at sea in their opposition to fusion—for they go not only against all manner of fusions (except, we suppose, fusions with Bunkerism) and re-endorse Sewardism and "the Albany Junto, headed and controlled (as they say) by Thurlow Weed," but they declare that they are unalterably with abolitionism of any other kind. As understood in New York city and further south, this means that these gentlemen will acquiesce in anything which sacrifices the slave power to do, either in Kansas or elsewhere.—In the South vocabulary, anything which opposes Southern schemes or interests, is "abolitionism."

THE PROSPECT FOR CROPS.—In an article on making up the various reports from the grain growing sections of the Union, the Boston Journal thinks that the prospects of an abundant grain harvest are good in the northwestern States, and in New England; but in some parts of the south the country has suffered much from drouth. In New York, Ohio and Indiana the fields look well, and the season hitherto has been exceedingly propitious. In Illinois a very large area of land has been planted, and if there is a continuation of favorable weather, the corn crop will be fifty per cent. larger than ever before. Of oats and potatoes there will be a corresponding increase. The wheat crop is coming forward rapidly in Virginia. In Maryland the crops have been revived by the recent rain, and now look fresh and healthy. In Tennessee, according to the Nashville Banner the prospect is good for the largest wheat crop by far that was ever raised in that part of the country.

Never before was there such a breadth of land put down to wheat, and never before did the yield per acre promise to be so great. In many fields the wheat is now ripening. Rye and oats look well, and the yield of corn will probably be larger than usual.

In the neighborhood of New Orleans, at last accounts, the prospects were very gloomy. The growing crops were withering in the fields for want of rain and even if the rain should come, they are so far gone that there is no prospect of an average yield.

In the southern part of Mississippi the planters are mourning over wilted corn and dying cotton plants while the corn, cotton and wheat in the northern part of the State are rejoicing in refreshing and invigorating showers. In the southern part of Alabama the prospect for crops is very gloomy. The corn has been planted several times but the ground is so dry that it will not come up. In the northern part of the State, although the spring has been unusually backward, vegetation is growing slowly, and they will probably be about the usual yield.—In Texas, although there will be a light crop of cotton, the sugar looks promising, and there will be an excellent crop of corn. Agricultural prospects generally are promising.

PEASLEE'S DEARWOOD; a Tale of Modern Life. New York: Dunce & Brothers. 1855.

This is a novel with an intensely interesting and complicated plot. The New York Express says that "it is a work of genuine vigor, full of passion, of life and character, and especially a reflection of these, as developed in our midst. It possesses a distinction from our other local novels—that of a sustained and dignified tone, which, if it does not aim at a uniform loftiness, reaches an elegance and beauty in its most attractive and finish quite equal to the best English novels of society." In its delineation of the higher classes of American social life, we have, too, by-the-by, something like a just picture, as far as it goes—and we were very glad to be relieved from the stereotyped vulgarisms of the snobbish actresses, snobs by snobs, usually regarded as indispensable in executing such a task."

VIRGINIA ELECTIONS.—It is likely to prove a pretty close run between Wise and Flournoy for Governor. A despatch from Boston to the Mercury, states that returns from 87 counties, show majorities for Wise amounting to 11,081, and for Flournoy, 9360. Wise's net majority, 1631. We may have something further under our telegraphic head, in third page.

NEW DIOCESES.—A correspondence of the State of Maine says that the Holy See, at Rome, has been induced to create a new diocese, and to appoint a Bishop to take the charge and oversight of it, under the title of Bishop of Portland. The installation will take place on Thursday, the 21st inst.

The Maine Baptist Convention will hold its next session in Eastport on the 9th of June.

The Penobscot Quarterly Conference will hold its next session in Frankfort on the 6th of June.

Hon. Mark H. Dunnell, the State Superintendent of Public Schools, is in this city, engaged on the important duties of his official station.

Lawrence Donohue vs. John D. Richards et als. Appleton, J. Plaintiff nonsuit.
Bridgett Donohue et. Same. Appleton, J. Plaintiff nonsuit.

The last decisions were in the Ellsworth School Committee case—the Committee being sustained. The opinion of Judge Appleton was a very able one—going into the facts elaborately, arguing the main points in a conclusive manner, and fortifying his opinions with eminent authorities.]

☞ HOUSE LOTS AT AUCTION.—It is desirable that every citizen of Bangor should own a house and lot which he can call his own. On reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that fifty house lots will be sold at auction, by R. S. Prescott, auctioneer, situated on State and Ohio streets, on Thursday, 31st inst. It will be borne in mind that at no very distant day a dam will be erected at Trent's Falls, which must and will enhance the value of these lots materially. The location is good, and the prices will admit of almost any man's purchasing one of more lots. Attend the sale by all means.

MR. WEBB'S dramatic reading at City Hall, last evening, were listened to with great interest and admiration, by a well filled house.—Mr. W's powers of rendering character have not been overrated by their most enthusiastic admirers. Some of the most striking passages of Shakspeare were given with excellent effect.

Mrs. W's second reading at this city will be given this evening. To-morrow evening she reads at Oldtown.

WE noticed at Goodnow's establishment on Kenduskeag Bridge, the other day, a beautiful fishing-rod, of improved pattern and make, recently manufactured for H. Bowman, Esq.—The joints are connected, and so arranged that they may be folded together in convenient shape for carrying, or extended for use, in half a minute's time. The devotees of Izaak Walton will find all the paraphernalia of their art in perfection, at Goodnow's.

JEWISH SUNDAY SCHOOL.—It will be seen by advertisement, that Mr. S. Wilder will open a Sunday School for young people, at the Vestry of the Central Church, on Wednesday, the 6th of June. Mr. W. brings testimonials of ability and character.

☞ LAND AT AUCTION.—R. S. Prescott will sell at auction, this afternoon, about seven acres of choice land on the Avenue road, (being part of the Pinson place) in two lots of 3½ acres each—a good chance for fruit gardening, &c.

☞ The attention of purchasers of Real Estate is requested to the sale of stores at Auction, on Wednesday, belonging to the estate of the late James B. Fiske Esq., by R. S. Prescott.

PENOBSCOT AND KENNEBEC R. R.—We understand the track will be completed as far east as Newport, sometime during the present week.

The Bangor Light Infantry will appear out for dress parade, to-morrow afternoon.

Irving's Life of Washington will be for sale by Duren.

The present is "Anniversary Week" in Boston. The meetings of the various religious, anti-slavery and other reformatory associations commenced yesterday, and will not all be completed until Friday morning.

Among the meetings for to-morrow and next day are those of the American Tract Society, Congregational Board of Publication, Convention of Congregational Ministers, American Sunday School Union, American Missionary Association, American Board of Foreign Missions, Universalist General Reform Association, &c.

NEW YORK ADVERTISING.—Mr. Andrew Wood, gives notice to publishers and others, that he has withdrawn from the Advertising Agency of V. B. Palmer, and intends to conduct business in future on his own account.—He has opened an office at No. 22 Beekman street, New York city, for the transaction of the Advertising and Subscription business.

The Biddeford Union and Journal has been greatly enlarged, and otherwise improved. It is now one of the largest and best papers in the State. Louis C. Cowan, Esq., the editor and proprietor, is an able writer and able man, and is always found doing good service on the side of good principles.

The Cincinnati Chronicle publishes a "Horrible Calamity," by which it appears that 38 persons were killed in March, 67 in February, and 36 in January. During that time two only of the guilty were hung by the sheriff, and eight by the mob, and seven others convicted of murder.

DYING FOR LOVE.—John B. Kilgore, from Fryeburg, Maine, foolishly shot himself through the head, in the Suffolk Manufacturing building at Lowell, where he was employed, on Thursday morning, because his love had jilted him. He is represented as a young man of steady habits.

We give place to the following communication from Mr. Wm. S. Baker—simply remarking that we have said nothing which was intended or calculated to injure his character as a man in any way. We certainly have said nothing against his habits, and know of nothing against them. We have simply said that as we understood the matter, Mr. B. was discharged because he did not feel like co-operating heartily with other officers in carrying the Maine Law into effect—and we now suppose such to have been the reason.

MR. EDITOR: Will you grant space for a few words from me, in regard to my removal from the city watch? I would not thus intrude upon your columns, did not the silence maintained by the Board of Aldermen and the insinuations thrown out by the Whig of Thursday, seem to demand a word in self-defence.

I am a citizen of Bangor of fourteen years standing—poor, it is true,—and as my character is my only wealth it is a matter of vital interest to me that it shall not be affected by acts or words of others, which may be construed to my injury.

I served last year on the city watch to the acceptance of my employers, and was this year one of only two of the old watch re-appointed. This year, until Monday last, I was not aware that my services were not entirely acceptable, of which fact, I was first apprised by a request to hand in my resignation to the Aldermen. I asked for the reason for this request, but could obtain no satisfaction. Claiming the right of a man and a citizen, I sent the note I had received to the Board of Aldermen, and asked that they might examine the grounds of the request ere they should take action upon the subject. It was unexpedient to make them known to the Board of Aldermen, in the judgment of the Mayor, and they did as he requested.

The right to the Mayor and Aldermen to exercise such authority, it is not my purpose to deny. But having been removed from a position, the duties of which are entered upon only under the obligations of an oath faithfully to perform them, it is my right, if not as an officer, yet as a citizen, to claim, and their duty to give me the protection in their power, against any inference which may be drawn from their action, prejudicial to my character for fidelity as a public servant and trustworthiness as a man. This is all I have asked.

From the Board of Aldermen I get only silence, but when drawn before the public in their own defence, through their organ, they promulgate some misrepresentations false and indefinite, and from which inferences may be drawn derogatory to my character. I here deny that one single instance of dereliction of duty on my part is at would justify to the public my removal, can be produced; or, tha there is a shadow of foundation in truth for any of the intimations of the Whig.

I have never been addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors; on the contrary have ever been a temperance man from the very beginning of that movement, and acting with and voting for men in favor of a strong prohibitory law. As a watchman, I have endeavored to be vigilant in the performance of duty with respect to that and all other laws. At the same time, I have never been ready, at the order of the Captain of the Watch, to attend at any place that he might desire; yet when not detailed to that service have felt that I was performing quite as acceptable service to the property owners of the city of Bangor, by attending to duties specially enjoined by law upon the watchmen, in vigilance against fires and the disturbance of public quiet, as could by basking all night beneath a lamp-post. If in thus conducting myself, I have erred in the discharge of my duty, I willingly submit to the consequences; if, on the other hand, some misrepresentations of my individual have been brought to bear against me; or, if I have been deemed too rated to make place for any more favored applicant, or for whatever cause, the public and myself ought to be allowed to know it.

WM. S. BAKER.

For the Whig and Courier.

To Parents.

Perhaps there is no one thing more annoying than are the knots of boys, to be found all over the city, playing ball in the streets.

I am not in any manner opposed to proper amusements for boys—an entire prohibiting they should play as hard as they please, if they will do so in proper places. But our streets were not designed for this purpose; and our very efficient police should put a stop to such practices.

There is a location not a thousand miles from Fifth street, where any number of little urchins congregate, and nothing can be heard from "early dawn to murky eve," except their eternal yell, from one end of the year to the other; and to one who really loves a still quiet home, it is, I confess, most truly annoying.

Then again—these boys, when they are not otherwise engaged, are perfecting themselves as linguists in the peculiar street vocabulary, or throwing rocks at houses or fences, or yelling or making obscene postures on fences, all of which belongs to a finished street education.

Now grant, if you please, that others have no rights; it does seem to me that the well being of the boys should have a little influence on family government. I may be in error, yet I repeat, that is my opinion. A SUFFERER.

THE DEATH OF MARSHAL ST ARNAUD is accounted for in the following manner by an item of the last foreign news:

It is stated that St Arnaud died from the effects of a wound received in a duel with Col Conbroll, which took place in the Park Vincelle, Paris, about four months previous to St Arnaud's departure for the seat of war,—the only persons present being their seconds. Conbroll first wounded Marshal St Arnaud in the right side. St Arnaud, immediately after receiving the wound, plunged his sword through Conbroll, who, after undergoing an operation in Paris, was obliged to proceed to Brussels, where he died from his wound. The cause of the difficulty was an insulting note to Madame St Arnaud by Col Conbroll, at a ball at Paris; and the spirit of the marshal could not brook such an indignity that impeached his genius and his aspiring intellect. The whole matter, however, was arranged as secretly that very few were aware of the circumstance.

MRS. JOHNSON'S LECTURES. At the close of the second course of Anatomical Lectures, delivered by Mrs. M. A. W. Johnson in the city of Bangor, the undersigned were appointed a committee to draft resolutions expressive of the high gratification which this course of instruction had yielded to the numerous audience that from day to day had given their attendance. The committee reported the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted.

MRS J. M'LAUGHLIN,
MRS. ALBERT HOLTON,
MRS. W. H. PALMER,
MRS W. L. WHEELER,
MRS. T. A. HILL,
MRS A. BARRETT,
Committee.

Resolved, That we who have attended Mrs. Johnson's Lectures on the laws of life and health, have listened to her able and interesting elucidation of those laws with the greatest pleasure and satisfaction, and we trust with permanent benefit to ourselves and our children, (and may we not say without presumption, through the influence which we may legitimately exercise)—on the society of which we constitute a part.

Resolved, That we cordially recommend all, women, to whatsoever place Mrs Johnson may go in the performance of her beneficent work, to avail themselves of the privilege of attending her course of instruction assuring them, that they will feel abundantly repaid for any sacrifice which they may find it necessary to make.

Resolved, That we now have proof how admirably a woman may become qualified to instruct her own sex, on all those most important, yet eating and delicate subjects which affect so intimately the physical and moral well being of society.

Resolved, That however we have hoped in "the times past of our ignorance," that our transgressions of the Laws of Life and Health, were "winked at," now that we have had the opportunity of examining into this wonderful mechanism of our being, in a suitable and pleasant manner, and of listening to the exposition of the operation of the mechanism from the lips of a woman, we feel that we can no longer hold ourselves guiltless if we continue either wilfully or ignorantly in the violation of those laws. Grateful for the gentleness and patience with which Mrs. Johnson has instructed us both publicly and individually, we give her our heartfelt wishes for success in her work, and tender her a kind and affectionate farewell.

Bangor, May 25th, 1855.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS. The Legislature of Wisconsin has recently passed a law relative to the rights of married women. It is as follows

"Any married woman whose husband either from drunkenness, profligacy, or from any other cause, shall neglect or refuse to provide for her support, or for the support and education of her children, shall have the right in her own name to transact business and to receive and collect her own earnings, and the earnings of her minor children, and apply the same for her own support and the support and education of such children, free from the control and interference of her husband or any person claiming the same, or claiming to be released from the same by or through his husband.

Provided, That if it is denied by plea that either of the cases enumerated in this act as entitling the married woman to sue in her name, exists a point of fact, that the issue upon this plea shall be tried and determined by the jury trying the case with the other issues submitted."

THE KINNEY EXPEDITION. A private letter from Col. Kinney is published in the Brownsville (Texas) American Flag, in which he thus speaks of his Central American enterprise:

"I look upon the Central American Expedition as full of promise. It requires but a few hundred Americans, and particularly if Texans, to take the control of that country—which is destined to command the commerce of the world—I have grants of land, and enough to make a start upon legally and safely. I intend to make a suitable government, and the rest will follow.—Many of my friends have already gone out, and many more are going—all of the right stamp for such an expedition. The people of Greytown (San Juan del Norte) have requested me to take control of their place, and to establish myself there first. They are now ready looking for me.—This will be the point from which I shall start, and where I hope to see my Rio Grande friends."

SUICIDE OF A CROESUS. English papers mention the suicide of a Mr. Royalstone, who, some ten years ago, was worth 150,000 pounds sterling, which he has since squandered in the gratification of his appetite. He had agents in China, Mexico, Canada and other places, to supply him with the rarest delicacies, and a single dish sometimes cost him fifty pounds. At Jersey on the 15th of last April, nothing was left for him but a solitary guinea, a shirt, and a battered hat. He bought a woodcock with the guinea, which he had served up in the highest style of culinary art. He gave himself two hours for an easy digestion, and jumped into the Thames from Westminster bridge.

One of our Nebraska exchanges boasts of eating a turkey, or a part of one, which measured five and a quarter feet from tip to tip of his wings—stood forty-eight inches in his stocking feet, and weighed between twenty-five and thirty pounds. The dame had appeared to be in the spring time of life, the pin feathers of youth were just giving place to the gaudy plumes of full dove eyed maturity turkeyhood, when he met his enemy and was laid low. But having aided in annihilating the carcass, we can say no more, it is all too much."

"The Balance of Power in Europe" is the title of a caricature, representing England and France on one end of a pole, and Russia on the other, the centre resting on the back of Turkey, with Prussia and Austria near the Muscovite's shoulders.

PROPER VIEW OF THE SUBJECT.—The resolutions below, were among those adopted by the American party of Massachusetts at their recent Convention in Boston. They speak the truth boldly and plainly, and are worthy of all commendation. We find them inserted in several of the Nebraska papers of the State, accompanied with condemnatory remarks. We are doubly obliged to those papers—first for inserting the resolutions, and secondly for speaking against them as they feel. The coming election in Maine will be sure to tell who are, and who are not the friends of freedom; doughfaces cannot succeed this time in getting up any side issues. But for the resolutions; they were as follows.—Kennebec Journal.

Resolved, That we hail with hope and joy the recent brilliant success of the Republican party in the States of Maine, Iowa, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Ohio, and trust these victories are foreshadowing of others soon to come, by which the free States shall present one solid phalanx of opposition to the aggressions of slavery.

Resolved,—That in the present chaotic condition of parties in Massachusetts, the only star above the horizon is the love of human liberty and the abhorrence of slavery, and that it is the duty of all anti-slavery men to rally round the Republican party, as an organization which invites the united action of the people on the transcending question of the slave dominion which now divides the Union.

QUICK TRIPS.—The steamer Daniel Webster for the past week has arrived in Portland at 2½ o'clock in the afternoon, giving passengers an hour to look about that city previous to taking the 4 o'clock train for Boston. On Wednesday last she made the run to Rockland in 4 hours and 40 minutes, and left Rockland, at 10 o'clock.—Journal.

Irving House.

This popular and well known establishment has recently undergone thorough alterations to meet the present wants now occurring in the hotel system. It will reopen on MONDAY, May 21, on the European and American Plans combined, with the same elegant Dining Rooms as heretofore, with Table d'Hote in Ladies Ordinary, which will be thrown open to the public from Chambers at and Broadway entrances. It is expected the Hotel will meet with the usual favor from the public, also from families and permanent boarders—as every attention will be paid to guests at moderate charges. The Irving House has been newly furnished and painted throughout, with various improvements added. The whole is to be conducted by Mr. WILLIAM H. BURROUGHS, who is well known for his skill and gentlemanly deportment, which of itself is a guarantee for its future success. More Outrages by Missouri Mobs.

NEW YORK, May 24.

We have intelligence of fresh outrages in Kansas. A young lawyer, named Phillips, has been mobbed at Leavenworth, by a party of Missourians, tarred and feathered, and his face blackened—and he was then ridden on a rail through the town, preceded by a hideous music, and then put up at auction and sold by a negro. The mob upon this occasion were unable to make him promise to leave the Territory; and when he was released by another mob, they took him back to Leavenworth.

Virginia Election.

WASHINGTON, May 23.

The friends of Mr. Wise are now firing from the Capitol, in honor of his election. He left for Accomac this afternoon. His majorities continue to roll in. In Carroll county he has 183, Russell 350, &c.

New York Items.

NEW YORK, May 26.

Sales were made in this market to-day of Cochineal dust, now supposed to be on the way, and expected to arrive about September, 1856, at $7.50 per lbs.

The weekly bank statement exhibits an increase of $430,000 in specie, and the following decreases, viz: loans $515,000; deposits $1,585,000; circulation, $115,000.

A judgment was given in the Supreme court on Monday, against Col. Kinney for $14,500 for a house and store destroyed in 1837, and ages not within the Statute of limitation had been set up.

An interesting breach of promise case was tried in the Cincinnati court before Judge Ochiltree on Friday last. The parties were, Miss Mary Hedrick and Henry Protzman. The jury, after half an hour's deliberation, gave a verdict in favor of the lady for $7,000 damages.

The extension R. R. bridge at Fort Edward, Washington Co., New York, belonging to the Washington County R. R. Co. was entirely burned by fire on Friday afternoon. It is supposed to have been set on fire by sparks from a locomotive. The bridge cost the company $50,000, and it is thought that it was not insured. Passengers are conveyed across the river at Fort Edward, by means of wagons.

Cleveland, May 23

Tuke, the murderer, who fainted in his attempted escape the other day, took poison on Saturday night, but has recovered from its effects. He is to be hanged next week.

Rains at the South.

Charleston papers speak of a heavy thunder storm on Friday evening; in the interior there had been copious showers, which were greatly needed.

A weekly "American" paper is about to be started at Charleston.
